Blind Folly and Inconsistency

One of the strangest facts developed by the rebellion is that the large majority of those who are actually fighting its battles, in behalf of slavery, own no slaves, but on the contrary are really and deeply interested in getting rid of an institution, which has all their lives been a damage and a curse to them, and must be so, if continued, to their children, for while it exists no means of education or improvement (or) moral and social elevation can be allowed or tolerated How intense is their folly and how gross is their ignorance of the blessings, which they blindly throw away, and even resist with all their might! So too in the North, the men who recklessly by their votes, sustain the rebel cause, and endeavor by supporting the leaders of false Democracy, to weaken the power of the Government, are for the most part the very men who have the most at stake in the maintenance of our free institutions hey came to our shores to seek a refuge from oppression—here they enjoy free speech free schools and the privileges of liberty—here for the first time in their lives they have been allowed the right to vote, and have become sovereigns, equal in all things that affect Government, to the highest and oldest citizen in the land And yet, very many of them, regardless of the duty which should have made them patriotic, and the brave defenders of the institutions which have so greatly blessed them, have been doing everything in their power to pull down the temple of civil liberty and destroy the Government which protects them

Both these classes—South and North—are doubtless the dupes of crafty and demagogue politicians their lack of intelligence and discernment leaves them an easy prey to the knavish traitors who raise armies or inflame mobs against the Union, but while it is astonishing that men can be so deluded, the fact that they are, suggests the immense importance of popular education and intelligence The ignorance of the poor whites at the South—that of the mobs at the North, have made and fostered the rebellion and the war The infernal projects and treason of those who plotted and accomplished secession would never have been sustained in an intelligent community; the equally base designs of the Woods and Vallandighams, who aid and comfort rebels by weakening the strength of the Government would never have found support save among the ignorant tools and playthings of corrupt ambition, which in the name of Democracy, has seduced and made them the disturbers of the public peace, murderers, thieves, and the enemies of public the welfare

Great Democratic Victory.—We owe our Confederate readers an apology for having so long neglected to chronicle under its proper heading, the appropriate victory recently achieved by their party in Lawrence, Kansas It was worthy of their cause, and entirely consistent with its aims and purposes True, crowds of men, women and children were killed in cold blood—absolutely butchered as they rushed at dead of night from their beds in their burning dwellings, but still it was a Democratic triumph, and the party deserves the record of such an exploit, and the fame of such a deed. Moreover, it is the only victory which the Democracy have gained in the loyal States, during the whole year and it would be unjust and ungenerous to withhold full and ample credit

The Chapman Pirates,—The testimony of Capt Law on the trial now in progress was in substance as follows, according to the telegraphic report in the Union

The only witness examined for the prosecution so far is William C Law, Captain of the schooner, who turned State's evidence He gives a clear and concise narative of the objects of the expedition It appears that Harpending was chief of the enterprise, Aubrey was second, and Greathouse was the last of the three to engage in the conspiracy Harpending first approached Capt. Law with a proposition to enter upon a privateering enterprise about three and a half months before the capture of the schooner and crew by our Custom House officers When Harpending became satisfied that he could trust Law, he exhibited to him a blank letter of marque signed by Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States, and by either the Secretary of War or Secretary of the Navy of the Davis Government. There was also a letter of instructions, scraps of which were shown in Court and identified by the witness The letter of marque authorized the holder to burn bond or destroy vessels under the flag of the United States Harpending informed the witness that he had been for a long time trying to get up an expedition for the purpose stated Aubrey was present at some of the interviews between Harpending and Law Harpending and Greathouse told witness that they had advised with A P Crittenden on the subject Crittenden said it was unlawful The schooner was to proceed to a small Island and land the three conspirators—Harpending Aubrey and Greathouse. The vessel would then go to Mazatlan, discharge some freight and endeavor to ascertain about the time when a steamer with treasure from San Francisco would be due at a certain point After capturing the steamer they would return to the island, fit the steamer out as a privateer and cruise in the South Pacific in the path of the California bound clipper ships After remaining in that region as long as deemed prudent, they would proceed to the coast of China and capture vessels homeward bound All their operations were to be directed against vessels belonging to the United States A part of their plan was to capture the schooner Wide's Islan with the treasure recovered from the wreck of the Golden Gate This very briefly was the substance of the lengthy examination Court adjourned till to-morrow when the witness will be subjected to a cross-examination Something of a sensation was created in Court by the fierce glance leveled by Harpending at the witness Greathouse and Aubrey gave their earnest attention to each question and answer but manifested no disposition to apy card bant

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to October 4.

San Francisco, Oct 4 —We have the following items from the East Texas advices state that Sam Houston had died of pneumonia

It is believed that Galveston is being strongly fortified in anticipation of an attack The report that Alexander H Stephens had gone to Europe is unfounded

New York, Oct 4 —Special telegrams from Washington to the Tribune says the Republican of last night say official dispatches of the 1st inst received to day represent the military situation at Chattanooga as satisfactory as could be wished Bragg makes no advance and does not dare to The statement in rebel papers that Burnside had retreated from Jonesboro towards Knoxville is untrue Col Baker's mounted rangers are scouring the country in quest of guerillas

Richmond Sentinel of the 29th, says the House of Delegates yesterday in the most summary manner disposed of a resolution for enquiring into the tone and temper of the people of the United State on the subject of peace with a view of responding if favorable The House by a unanimous vote put its foot on the resolution without words or discussion, or a moment's delay

The Cincinnati Commercial states our loss at Chattanooga in killed, wounded and prisoners at 13 800

Gold in New York yesterday was 4 ½

Washington, Oct 4 —A recent raid on the cavalry camp at Langley, captured all the horses belonging to a company

New York, Oct 4 —The Vanderbilt and two other steamers sailed from Rio Janeiro August 22d, on a cruise

The guerrillas are growing bold and numerous on the Mississippi river They have planted their batteries 16 miles above Natchez from which some eight or ten vessels have been fired into

Atlanta, Ga, Oct 3 —Gen Bragg has consented to an exchange of wounded prisoners with Rosecrans Affairs at Chattanooga are unchanged Rosecrans receives his supplies from Stevenson He is confined to his works around Chattanooga, our lines extending to the river His defenses are strong and thought to be so superior that no assault will be made

New York, October 4 —A dispatch from the Army of the Cumberland, dated 2d, says there is no cause for alarm from rebel flank movements There is no enemy in sight. Skirmishing continues—the rebels always getting worsted

A Berwick City letter states that the main body of Banks's command encamped near that place on the 28th of September No serious encounter was expected until they reached Vermillion Bayou, where the rebels under Dick Taylor, in great force, are fortifying Another report is that the rebels are concentrating all their available force from Western Louisiana Eastern Texas and Southern Arkansas at Alexandria on Red river for a last desperate effort and are evacuating all the country this side of Alexandria Our forces will soon make an advance movement

San Francisco, Oct 4th —Libby was examined yesterday in the Chapman case Nothing further developed Travers the informant will be examined to-morrow

Additional Eastern News

Chicago, Sept 30 —A special dispatch to the World says No fears need be entertained that the Army of the Potomac is weaker than the force in front From the latest advices, it appears that it largely outnumbers the enemy's army placing the infantry against the rebel line of all arms, while we have a very large force of cavalry, seldom idle, but daily banging over the enemy, making any movement on his part difficult

New York Sept 29th —A Morris Island letter says Seven deserters from Sullivan's Island report that, after the blowing up of the magazine at Fort Moultrie, fully expecting the continuance of the shelling on the following day, the rebels made preparations for the removal of their best guns, with the intention of evacuating the island but finding next morning that the shelling was not renewed, they concluded to remain

New York, Sept 30 —The World's New Orleans letter, of Sept 22, says The movement to Texas is progressing For more than a fortnight Brashear has been the base of concentration for the next movement and supplies have been forwarded as rapidly as possible by rail, while large quantities of ordnance stores and ammunition have been sent by way of the Gulf to Berwick Bay — These ordnance transports have been used to carry across the troops from Brashear to Berwick Nearly the whole 19th army corps, under Gen Weitzel, had crossed and encamped on the other side

The 13th corps was to follow, leaving a sufficient force to hold Brashear, and one or two regiments at Thibodeaux When Weitzel's men began to cross the bay, the rebel General Taylor's men commenced a movement up the Feche Those who came back from Brashear city, on Sunday evening, say of the rebels retreat along the Bayou, that it was marked by the burning of barns, cabins and farm houses —in fact, the destruction, as foretold, of everything likely to give aid and comfort to the invading army Up to this hour we have not heard of the advance of Franklin's army from the west bank of Berwick bay We only know that a large part of the column is safely across and patiently awaiting the rest, when the march would begin in the tracks of the retreating Confederates Some believe Franklin's army will leave the Feche at the town of Franklin and strike across the State to Sabine river It is supposed one of two things will follow an engagement with and the annihilation of the Confederate force at Camp Bisland, or they will retreat to New Iberia some distance above Franklin It is not supposed that Gen Franklin will leave an enemy ten or fifteen thousand strong in his rear If there is no engagement at Camp Bisland there may be at New Iberia, unless the Confederates should continue their retreat along the road to Texas, the failure of the Sabine expedition leaving an unobstructed road to Houston

A letter to the Times says Some days since a guerrilla force of 500 men under Col Logan, was operating on the Mississippi His only aim seems to be to burn and destroy what little is left on the plantations Logan and some of his men made a dash in the vicinity of Natchez and burned 500 bales of cotton, which the owners were awaiting an opportunity to bring within the Federal lines

The special dispatch to the Herald states that General Schenck has been removed from the command of the Middle Department — Gen Tyler is to take command

Leavenworth, Sept 29th —Gov Gamble having authorized Col Moss of Liberty County to arm the men in Platte Clay and Clinton counties, he has armed mostly returned rebel soldiers and men under bonds Moss men are now driving Union men out of Missouri Over a hundred families crossed the river to day Many of the wives of Union soldiers have been compelled to leave Four or five Union men have been murdered by Moss men A perfect reign of terror exists

Advices have been received from Washington to the effect that Kansas will be made a separate Department, under command of Gen Curtis

Gen Blunt is at Fort Scott organizing the new Kansas regiments which he expects to [illegible] Texas in a few days Negroes are arriving at Leavenworth in large numbers to join the Kansas colored regiments

St Louis Sept [illegible] —It is understood here that a plot has been discovered to burn all the Government transports on the Western rivers. Several persons have been arrested and are now in irons on one of whom a cypher letter was found which being translated disclosed a plot to destroy all the steamers that are in the service of the Government. The matter is being thoroughly investigated

Washington Oct 1 —A deserter from the [illegible] and City Battalion has arrived here — He states that about 11,000 troops are in the neighborhood of Richmond that the Merrimac is lying near Jones Bluff The Lady Davis is fully manned And her iron clad is on the stocks Five small gunboats are near the Bluff ready All the sailors about 600 have been sent to Charleston

Washington, September 30th —The Missouri delegation had an interview with the President and presented an address containing the alleged grievances and asked a change of military commanders The President promised to give the subject a careful consideration and furnish a reply as soon as practicable The address was signed by seventy persons Among other things they ask an immediate restoration of the military control of Missouri to the hands of national officers and the discharge of all the enrolled militia of the State from any further service at the arbitrary will of Governor Gamble, and further that in the place of Schofield, a commander be assigned to the Department whose sympathies will be with Missouri's suffering people and not with the proslavery ites. They say Schofield has identified himself with the State Administration, and that his policy has been shaped to conform to Gamble's proslavery and conservative views, that from his accession to command, matters have grown worse and worse in Missouri till now they are in a more terrible condition than at any time since the outbreak of the rebellion They ask the appointment of Butler who they believe would restore peace in less than sixty days

A new Orleans letter dated September 20th says Deserters state that Kirby Smith has proclaimed himself Military Dictator of Louisiana and Texas and issued a proclamation calling out three thousand negroes and conscripting whites between the ages of sixteen and sixty

New York, October 1st —The officers of a Russian fleet of four war vessels which arrived here a few days since, had a most enthusiastic reception to-day Fifteen regiments paraded, and the number of spectators along the route of the procession is said to have reached a hundred thousand At the City Hall, an official welcome was tendered, and the guests reviewed the military The whole affair passed off finely

Washington, October 1st —Mosby's cavalry are still sloshing around On Monday he appeared in the vicinity of a detached camp of the Second Massachusetts Regiment, whose headquarters are at Centerville He seems to have no fears of capture, and finds but little trouble in penetrating our lines

The Richmond Examiner of September 29th has an account of a raid by a Yankee force of about 100, on Bristol on the Virginia and Tennessee railroad Col Foster, of the Sixty fifth Indiana Regiment, was in command of the expedition, and it appears that the cavalry command of the rebel Colonel Carter, who was guarding the town, displayed the most redoubtable courage Col Foster destroyed a large amount of flour, ammunition, and soldiers clothing, burned the railroad bridge over Beaver Creek, and also the trestle work, a mile or two southwest of the town

A Richmond paper of September 29th says It is impossible to say what Rosecrans will do next The Northern accounts don't tally, of course, with ours Dispatches of September 27th, say that Longstreet commands the river and the railroad below Chattanooga Excellent news, if true Rosecrans must then rely on wagons for supplies to say nothing of the enormous transportation which such an army needs The road over the Cumberland mountains is obstructed It is difficult under the best circumstances, and wholly inadequate for his purposes. Our dispatches add that it is not supposed that an attack will be made, as we command the situation, and this need not cause alarm if our troops are on the defensive Rosecrans will hold out as long as he can get reinforcements, and attempt to extricate himself by assuming the offensive Failing in that he will make the best of his way back to Nashville

The following dispatch is from the Richmond papers

Atlanta September 26th.—On Sunday night, September 27th, pickets were seen towards Harrison, which the Yankees said was the signal of the approach of General Burnsides with 40,000 reinforcements, and a heavy column from the North were before Chattanooga and Harrison Our lines extend from Chattanooga to within striking distance of the enemy On Monday night our cavalry occupied Cooper's Gap, on Lookout Mountain twelve miles from Chattanooga Last night General Wheeler made a reconnoissance toward Lookout Mountain and found an infantry force and drove them away The mountain is now held by Longstreet, The enemy's operations are plainly visible from Lookout Mountain He has one pontoon bridge across the Tennessee

New York October 1st —A letter to the Times from Queretaro, Mexico says Juarez and his Government are at San Luis Potosi full of courage and hope General Dios has been appointed Commander in Chief, and has now a force of 8,000 men at San Luis, thoroughly organized and armed Gen Doblado of Guanajuato, has 16,000 men, also thoroughly organized and armed Guerichato Ajaca and other States are organizing forces and the Juarez government will soon have twenty five to forty thousand men in the field against the French, whom it intends to fight now and forever

A Herald letter from San Luis Potosi dated August 21st, says Gen Doblado has been appointed Minister of War and [illegible] De Tejega Secretary of State They are probably two of the ablest men at present in the Mexican Republic Gen Negrete is already giving great trouble to the French in the States of Puebla and Tlascala. This correspondent thinks Mexico will be able to place 100,000 men in the field against the French

European Intelligence

Cape Race, September 29 —The Europa has arrived. A letter from Richmond in the Confederate organ speaks of the probable recall of the representatives of the South from England on account of the attitude of the British Government.

The London Star fears it is the intention of the French Government to speedily recognize the Confederate States and adduces various facts and [illegible] in support of this belief

The London Herald adverting to the rumor of the probable recall of Mason from London says it is the inevitable consequence of the [illegible] treatment which he has received from Earl Russell The Herald thinks it has been through the suggestion [illegible] that Mason has been excluded from official intercourse with the British Government

The Paris [illegible] [illegible] itself able [illegible] that the English Cabinet fearing the French may take possession of Mexico, is strongly endeavoring to persuade the Emperor of Austria to consent to the acceptance of the throne by Maximilian The [illegible] says the Mexican loan spoken of is to be [illegible] in London as soon as the Archduke is officially proclaimed Emperor It is also said that [illegible] would be enrolled for service in the new [illegible] This statement caused a [illegible] in Mexican securities in London

The Russian [illegible] English [illegible] is published. It professes [illegible] tranquility in Poland

The [illegible] of [illegible] Washington [illegible] the question of [illegible]

New York Sept [illegible] —[illegible] Washington from Liverpool Sept 16 and Queenstown the 17th has arrived

The Emancipation Society has written to Earl Russell [illegible] the rams on the Mersey [illegible] the rights of the civilized

The Times editorially expresses satisfaction that the iron clads in the Mersey will be allowed to leave under the [illegible] of their owners [illegible]

A [illegible] arrived at Liverpool [illegible] The [illegible] charged with [illegible] Confederate agent [illegible] Liverpool [illegible] from $100 to $1 [illegible] returned and the men were threatening vengeance It is reported that two Federal vessels are cruising [illegible] to prevent the [illegible]

The Times says the Canadians on annexation to the United States [illegible] they are free to do as they like but are certain they have nothing to gain and everything to lose by such a step

The Russian reply to the European Powers had been delivered. They declare that the Czar is immovable on the Polish question The six points are not agreed to and the further discussion [illegible] superfluous Russia assumes the full responsibility of her acts

New York [illegible] 110 [illegible] 43½
[illegible] Legal Tender rates 70

Steamer Brother Jonathan —This ship, advertised to leave San Francisco on Wednesday, the 7th inst, at 10 o'clock a m, may be expected to arrive this evening or to morrow morning

Gold Dust —About 150 pounds of dust was received by Wells, Fargo & Co by the steamer Wilson G Hunt Some 75 passengers came down on this steamer last evening

Recorder's Court —William R. Hill was taken before Recorder McCoy yesterday, charged with violent and disorderly conduct, and fined ten dollars and costs

Being Raised —The spire which is to ornament the new Presbyterian Church, was raised about twenty feet yesterday, by Mr. John, the builder

War Diorama —Those who did not attend the exhibition last evening should be sure and go to night Those who have witnessed it speak of it in the highest terms. Go early or you may not get a seat

Tracy & Co's express office will be open Sunday afternoon from 4 o'clock till 6.

Meeting of Catholics —By reference to advertisement it will be seen that a meeting of Catholics has been called to ascertain the cause of the removal of the Rev. Father Mackin from his pastorate in this city We understand that the Bishop of this Diocese thought proper to remove him to Jacksonville, and place another in his stead Father M. has made hosts of friends since his residence in this city, especially among his flock—hence the meeting to-night.

A New and Important Campaign —It is stated by a New York paper that a new and important expedition against an important point in rebeldom is projected It is to be commanded by a well known general officer, who is now engaged in obtaining steam transports and sailing vessels, upon which to embark his command The journal referred to says

At this time it would be highly improper to be known the destination of this new expedition, which is intended to strike a blow at the rebels quite as disastrous as the fall of Charleston or Savannah could be The War Department have determined to strike quick and hard before the fall elections, and have decided upon a plan of action that will confirm the faith of wavering States in the strength of the Union, as well as destroy the rebel armies The Army of the Potomac having many times unsuccessfully attempted the capture of Richmond, is likely to be reorganized under another name, and, while Washington will not be left undefended, the warriors of the Potomac will obtain glory in another direction Instead of spending the dog days in the Virginia swamps, those gallant soldiers will be transported at once to within a few miles of the scene of their operations, and capture Richmond by their exploits hundreds of miles away from the rebel capital

The Monroe Doctrine —Mr Everett closes an able paper in the last number of the Ledger upon the policy of the United States in Central America, with the following remarks upon the Monroe doctrine, and its present application

I will add but two remarks at present on the subject of this much maligned Monroe doctrine First, that when the ground on which it rests was originally assumed by President Monroe's administration, it was, as far as it bore upon the affairs of Spanish America, with the concurrence and warm approval of the British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Mr Geo Canning He regarded it as a very important step, in furtherance of the policy then deemed of vital importance to England, viz, that of counteracting the design entertained by Spain, backed by the Holy Alliance, of recolonizing the Spanish American States Secondly, that when Louis Napoleon has established a few more empires on the American continent, England will perhaps again view the Monroe doctrine with Mr. Canning's favorable eye She may then have to regret the countenance she has extended to the Calhoun doctrine of secession, which, by paralyzing the Government of the United States, has enabled imperial France to commence the execution of the most high-handed measures of the Holy Alliance But the end is not yet

The Wrong Boy Jumped —Capt Ellis, of the Cavalry, relates the following little incident, which serves to illustrate how coolly the "horrors of war" are looked upon by our boys

He says in one of the numerous skirmishes in which his company were engaged, dismounted, one of his men, young Kitchen, of Hudson, spied a rebel running across a field opposite "Now," said Kitchen, taking deliberate aim at the rebel, "you'll see that boy jump and fired but missed his mark The rebel coolly stopped and returned the compliment and George received a ball in the fleshy part of the leg He jumped about four feet and ejaculated, "By jolly, the wrong boy jumped that time"—Evening Post

Look here! What do you think of this suit? I some! Guess you are raything Who did it? Who did it? Why, who could do it, but Houston Hastings & Co, the famous tailors of Lick House Montgomery street, San Francisco? I sent them my measure two months ago, and now I've received all the way from New York the best suit of clothes I ever had I'll have my daguerreotype taken now, sure

When this Cruel War is Over.

A SONG

Dearest love, do you remember
When we last did meet,
How you told me that you loved me
Kneeling at my feet?
Oh! how proud you stood before me
In your suit of blue,
When you vowed to me and Country
Ever to be true.

CHORUS.
Weeping, sad and lonely,
Hopes and fears how vain!
Yet praying, when this cruel war is over,
Praying that we meet again.

When the summer breeze is sighing
Mournfully along;
Or when autumn leaves are falling,
Sadly breathes the song.
Oft in dreams I see thee lying
On the battle plain,
Lonely, wounded, even dying,
Calling, but in vain.

If amid the din of battle
Nobly you should fall,
Far away from those who love you,
None to hear you call,
Who would whisper words of comfort,
Who would soothe your pain?
Ah! the many cruel fancies
Ever in my brain.

But our Country called you, darling,
Angels cheer your way;
While our nation's sons are fighting,
We can only pray.
Nobly strike for God and Liberty,
Let all nations see
How we love our Starry Banner,
Emblem of the free!

The Energy and Pluck of Gen Banks.

A month before the surrender of Port Hudson the general expectation was that General Banks would be obliged to raise the siege and retreat to New Orleans. Almost any other man would have done so, but General Banks had determined to win, and this determination carried him through to glorious success. The New Orleans correspondent of the Boston Journal gives a graphic account of the disheartening circumstance out of which General Banks extorted success.

A week before the surrender things had assumed a melancholy phase. Commanding officers had begun to feel discouraged, regiments had become reduced to less than a hundred men, in some—in many—cases—in more than one instance lieutenant colonels were in command of brigades, and colonels in command of divisions, the hot sun poured down its beams in all its sweltering fury upon the workmen in the trenches and the troops in camp, which, with the dewy nights, sowed the seed of fever in many a rugged constitution. For a time the hope of success seemed vain. Yet Gen Banks never was disheartened. He seemed to have an instinct of ultimate success. General officers predicted a speedy raising of the siege, for the enemy had come so strongly upon our rear as to make the position of our army rather an uncomfortable one. Two steamers had been captured and burned almost under our noses. Grierson, with all his cavalry command, had fallen into a rebel trap, where the brave Lieut Perkins was killed and Capt Godfrey lost all but twelve men out of a full company, and that company one of the best in the service in covering his retreat. Our forage trains had been sent a few miles to the rear, and the rebels had seized a score or more of them. Gen. Dow had been captured at a house a mile in the rear of our lines. An impudent raid had been made by a squad of rebel cavalry at Springfield Landing, but the raiders succeeded only in burning a few private stores before Capt Wilson's company of the 4th regiment of Ullman's brigade (a black company) put them to flight, wounding and killing in the affair their two leading officers.

All these things and a score of others pleaded strongly against a continuance of the siege; and more than all, when the fact became known that the enemy had cut off our communication with Baton Rouge and had planted a battery at Donaldsonville to intercept river transportation, the camps in the rear of Port Hudson were filled with gloom. But from camp to camp rode the commanding general, his face stamped with the surety of success, inspiriting and inspiring the troops. The flower of the army had been called apart from their comrades, and under Col. Birge (than whom no officer of the department better deserves the star of the brigadier, for his gallantry has ever been conspicuous and his coolness unequalled) placed under discipline in a separate camp, and who were to constitute a storming party. By a happy fatality circumstances did not demand an exhibition of their courage, though Col. Birge's thousand were the first to march into Port Hudson after the surrender, to the tune of the "Star Spangled Banner."

As I said before, when everything looked discouraging to the army, one could read no misgivings on the immovable face of General Banks. He cheerfully assured his army of success, and wondered why any could doubt it. The iron will and unswerving faith of General Banks won Port Hudson. On the 7th the glad news of Vicksburg's surrender came down to us. The next day we effected the surrender of Port Hudson. The news from Vicksburg hastened the surrender of Port Hudson only a day or two. Gen. Gardner assured some of our officers that he should have surrendered in three days, as he could have held out no longer. Then let the old Bay State be proud of the commander of the department of the Gulf. Free from the manipulations of the politicians at Washington, because so far away, he has been let alone to achieve victory after victory. Though Government has denied him troops enough to hold all the territory he has passed over, yet he holds the whole State of Louisiana to day under his sword hilt. You called him the 'iron man' in other fields. How well he bears the soubriquet let the perforated sand banks and splintered guns of Port Hudson answer. True to the motto of his early manhood, he maintained that "success was duty, defeat was crime." He did his duty—and the stars and stripes waving to-day from the bluffs of Port Hudson bear evidence of the success of his iron will.

OLD ABE'S LAST JOKE.—A friend has related to us the following excellent joke, and vouches for its truthfulness:

A few weeks since a Colonel was dismissed from the service by order of the President upon charges of disloyalty. The Colonel, feeling that he had been grossly misrepresented by malicious enemies, secured papers from a number of our Generals and other influential men refuting the charges and requesting his reinstatement, and repaired to Washington to submit his case to the President. After the usual ceremony an interview was granted, and the President received his papers, requesting him to call again in the course of a few hours, during which time he would give his attention to the case. The Colonel called at the appointed time, and was cordially received by the President and informed that his papers had been carefully examined, that the evidence they contained was satisfactory, and injustice had evidently been done in dismissing him. The Colonel was thereupon reinstated. The President then put the following interrogatories to the Colonel:

"Now, Colonel, I have acted upon your case, and I know you to be one of my most bitter political opponents. I desire to ask you if you are convinced in your own mind that I am honest, and desire to do justice to all parties, regardless of their political proclivities, and whether you believe that I have acted impartially throughout my administration?"

The Colonel replied: "I am proud to acknowledge that you have done me justice, that you are honest, and have always done what you deemed right and just in all such cases."

"Well, Colonel," replied the President, "you are evidently satisfied of my loyalty and integrity, and you have, perhaps, been wronged. I now propose to promote you to a Brigadier General, providing you will allow me to fully test your loyalty beyond what papers you have produced. If you are a loyal man and a war Democrat you can surely have no objection."

The Colonel, as a matter of course, felt highly elated at this unexpected favor, and earnestly stated that he was prepared to submit to any requirements calculated to test his loyalty, and expressed his delight in complying with the demand, since his Excellency had shown such confidence in him, as to honor him with such an enviable position.

"Well, Colonel," replied Old Abe, as a merry twinkle danced in his eye, "I promote you to the command of a negro brigade, and I hope that you will prove yourself as loyal as you are represented, and do honor to the high trust to which you are assigned."

The Democracy of the Colonel was violently jarred at this announcement, and straightening himself to his full length he replied:

"Mr President, I thank you for the temporary pleasure you have conferred upon me in building up an air castle of such extraordinary dimensions, and thus sweeping it down with one stroke. While I admire the joke, I most respectfully beg leave to decline serving in any such d—d capacity."—Louisville Journal.

WHY PUGH IS A COPPERHEAD.—Governor Tod of Ohio, in a speech at Springfield, on the 27th of August, said of George E. Pugh, the Copperhead candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Ohio:

Why, within a single short year Mr Pugh was one of the Union party. Within a year he solicited from me the position of Colonel of a regiment. He wished to lead a thousand valiant men against the rebellion. [Laughter.] What in the name of all consistency has transpired to change his views? I know of nothing except that then he was not a candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

PROVIDENCE SCHOOL!
FOR YOUNG LADIES,

CONDUCTED BY

The Sisters of Charity,

VANCOUVER, W. T.

THIS INSTITUTION, which was commenced in the year 1856, is delightfully situated at Vancouver, on the north bank of the Columbia River. The beauty of the surrounding scenery and the salubrity of the place cannot be surpassed.

The course of studies embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education, and a particular attention is given to form the pupils to household duties and plain and fancy needle work.

Parents may rest satisfied that every care will be paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at this Institution, whilst no pains will be spared to nourish in them those principles of virtue which alone can render education profitable.

No undue influence will be exercised over the religious opinions of the pupils; however, for the maintenance of good order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the house.

Each pupil must be provided with a white muslin, a sky blue delaine, and a black delaine dress made high in the neck, with long sleeves, closing at the wrist, and a cape of the same material. Also with six changes, six towels and sufficient number of pairs of shoes.

There is an annual vacation of six weeks commencing with the first week of July and ending with the third week of August. No other absence is allowed during the year except in case of serious illness.

No pupil is admitted for less than a quarter, and no deduction can be made for time lost or quarter uncompleted, unless in the case above mentioned.

Pupils can enter at any period of the year and are charged from the day of their admission into the Institution.

Visits are confined to Thursdays, and can only be made by parents, guardians, or persons authorized by the parents of pupils.

All correspondence is subject to the inspection of the Superioress.

From Rev J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.
PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIE
AND THE FRIENDS OF SO

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer 'State of Maine,' from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
